PM Donates 50,000!

Discusses Gold Cup with FFB Officials

Last week the Football Federation of Belize (FFB) announced its decision to hold an Official Telethon on Saturday, June 15 to raise funds to send the Belize National Football Selection to the Gold Cup in the United States, a prestigious CONCACAF Regional Tournament which begins on July 7, 2013.

The FFB said it needs to raise a total of $500,000 (Half a Million Dollars) to send our proud footballers to the Gold Cup to Represent the Jewel.

The Federation is asking every Belizean to donate at least One Dollar ($1.00) towards supporting our National Selection, and is calling on businesses to adopt a player; which is to donate funds for the cost of sending one player to the Gold Cup (BZ $5,000.00).

Well, this past week, the FFB's fundraising efforts got an excellent jump start as Prime Minister Hon. Dean Barrow, on behalf of the Government of Belize, handed over a cheque of $50,000 towards the cause.

The PM made the donation at a meeting with FFB Officials on Thursday, May 30, 2013 in Belize City.

Present for the meeting were Senior Vice President, Mr. Sergio Chuc; Vice President, Mr.

Rawell Pelayo, and Executive Member, Mr. Marlon Kuylen.

With this head start, the FFB now prepares for its Official Telethon on June 15, which will be held at the MCC Tennis Court on New Town Barracks, Belize City, to be streamed live on the Internet and carried live on all major TV Stations and Radio Stations.

The FFB will no doubt be further inspired by the generosity displayed by all those who contributed this past weekend towards raising the very same amount for a worthy cause spearheaded by First Lady Kim Simplis-Barrow.

Hers was for the disabled. This one is for the able; our fit and able footballers representing the Jewel. Give generously!

Kim Raises $ 500,000 +

Last Year was the first time she did it, and it was very successful - the Nationwide Telethon spearheaded by First Lady of Belize and Special Envoy for Women and Children, Mrs. Kim Simplis Barrow, to raise funds for Children with Disabilities in Belize.

This weekend, Saturday June 1, 2013, the second such telethon was held, in conjunction with Care Belize; and it once again exceeded its target of $500,000.

The event featured an extensive line-up of Belizean artists and was broadcast live on all major TV and Radio Stations.

Having recently entered the second year of its second term in office, the current administration is admittedly beginning to show visible cracks and fissures here and there, confirming the fact that no human creation or endeavor is ever perfect.

Notwithstanding, the popularity of the Government headed by Prime Minister Dean Barrow is, by all accounts, on the resurgence.

The results of the ongoing Village Council Elections being conducted countrywide clearly indicate that the Party in Government is solidifying the trust and confidence placed in it by the Belizean People as it consolidates the gains made in its first term of office.

This is, for sure, a testament to the brilliant leadership of Hon.

Dean Barrow, who has guided the Country with remarkable success through one of the most difficult economic periods, when advanced economies in our region and the world have been struggling to stay afloat.

But the UDP's continuing political success is due also, in part, to the fact that the party in Opposition is yet to convince the Belizean People that, after presiding over one of the worst administrations that has ever governed our young nation, it possesses any redeeming value or holds any hope of ever again representing the virtues and vision of the small but proud country we call Belize.

It's a shameful state of affairs for the party of the late Honorable George Cadle Price who even his staunchest political opponents had to admit was, if nothing else, a leader with soul and with a compelling vision of what he wanted to accomplish and where he wanted Belize to go.

These are rewarding times for the UDP, but in a sense, they could be troubling days for Belize's Democracy, as the party in Opposition, which came within two seats of winning the last General Elections, appears to be fading into despair and perpetual demise.

Sweet Celebration!

Sugar Production Exceeds Expectations

Tower Hill Sugar Factory in Orange Walk

The big economic news of the past week is that the Sugar Industry has performed exceptionally well over the crop year just ended.

In fact, the performance went well beyond expectations, triggering a big celebration at what has been dubbed the Dia de Los Caneros (Cane Farmers Day) observed this past Friday, May 31, 2013.

In true democratic fashion, the Cane Farmers invited leaders from both major political parties to speak at the event in Orange Walk, the incumbent party (UDP) represented by Deputy Prime Minister and Orange Walk Area Representative Hon. Gaspar Vega, the PUP by Leader of the Opposition Hon. Francis Fonseca.

Be that as it may, it is certainly the current UDP Administration and the farmers themselves who deserve a great deal of the credit for what will certainly go down in history as one of the most remarkable turnarounds for the better.

Just a few years ago, the Sugar Industry was in crisis, on the verge of collapse, with the livelihood of over 6,000 farmers and their families on the line. The UDP Government, led by Prime Minister Hon. Dean Barrow and his Deputy from the North, Hon. Gaspar Vega, demonstrating great confidence in the Sugar Industry and the Cane Farmers, found $10 Million to bail out the Industry and negotiated additional financial arrangements with creditors to allow the Industry to survive.

Accompanying that, the Government forged a Tripartite Memorandum of Understanding to improve efficiency in the Industry.

The recovery was almost immediate, and the Industry has since rebounded remarkably and attracted significant new Foreign Investment through American Sugar Refining Limited (ASR).

When this year's crop season ended on May 25, 2013, the amount of cane harvested had reached 1,078,000 tons, the best in almost 20 years. What's better news is that the ratio of cane harvested to sugar extracted (Tons Cane/Tons Sugar) had significantly improved, up to 9.1. Initial estimates were that farmers would have gotten $45 per ton of cane delivered. That figure has now been upgraded to $63 per ton, with the possibility of a further increase still.

Indeed, this calls for a celebration, a 'sweet celebration'.

Mrs. Noreen Fairweather National Emergency Coordinator

It's one of those seasons most Belizeans don't await with eager expectation, but whether we like it or not, the Hurricane season is here, having coming Saturday, June 1. Are we ready for it? We had better be, says the National Emergency Management Organization (NEMO), which falls under the Ministry of National Emergency Management headed by Hon. Godwin Hulse, who at a press conference this past Thursday reminded us that Hurricanes and the response to it are not just the business of his Ministry and NEMO, but that of every individual who can be affected:

"The state is prepared to assist all the individuals of this country to be safe in the event of

The Press Conference had been called by the Ministry of National Emergency Management and was held at the NEMO Conference Room in Belmopan. It had to compete with a Press Conference on the sensational issue of Baby Deaths at the Karl Heusner Memorial Hospital, which featured the Prime Minister laying out emergency short term and long term plans to address it. The NEMO Press Conference was nevertheless well attended by

We do not guarantee that the shelter you go to will withstand a Category Four or Five Hurricane. As you know, the shelters are schools, churches, community centers, none of which NEMO built. We found them. This is our Belize. We do not necessarily adhere to all the construction standards that we should. So, while NEMO has put its best to ensure that the shelters are rea-

the media, and featured presentations by National Emergency Management Hon. Gowin Hulse; NEMO National Coordinator, Noreen Fairweather; and Chief Meteorologist, Dennis Gonguez, who commented on the general forecasts for the new Hurricane Season:

“This Saturday marks the start of the 2013 hurricane season; and the forecast, as predicted by the more reputable forecast centers, predict an above average season”, Gonguez said. “If you look at the graphic there, for the average period 1980 to 2010, we see that the average number of named storms predicted by the United States Weather Service; and as low as FOURTEEN by the met office in the United Kingdom. Those forecasts are well above the normal average of the 1980 – 2010 period. In terms of hurricanes with winds seventy-four miles per hour or higher, most of the forecasts indicate that approximately NINE systems will develop, which is just about average for the same 1980-2010 period.”

And while the Minister of National Emergency Management, in conventional ceremonial fashion, was called upon to officially declare the Hurricane Season open, Hon. Hulse, for practical reasons, took objection with that terminology and the connotation it carries.

“My NEC said that today the task comes to me to declare open the season. I cannot, and

Also present at the Press Conference was Chief Executive Officer in the Ministry of National Emergency Management, Candelaria Saldivar.

Underscoring the responsibility of every individual to actively participate in looking after their own safety and well-being, the theme chosen for this year's hurricane season is: “Reducing the Threats from Climate Change, Disaster Preparedness begins with YOU”.

It has often been said that whatever men can do, women can do it even better.

While this statement is an endorsement to the diverse abilities possessed by women to excel in unfamiliar domains, it can also mean that women have the potential to surpass the evils done by Ted Bundy, Jim Jones or Adolf Hitler.

It is no surprise then that the effort that was started in the Western World as the Feminist Movement, which was once strongly rooted in the traditional Judeo-Christian concepts of truth, morality and justice, has now evolved into an influential movement far removed from the ideals and goals of the original feminists. Neo Feminism (the New Feminism) is now commanding enormous social shifts globally as trailblazers in the global campaign that seeks to redefine the terms “gender” and “family” and to entice organizations and governments for laws to support rights and freedoms to engage in activities that are totally contrary to God’s design and purpose.

Abortion, prostitution, and homosexuality have now become “rights” to Neo Feminists. On examining the disastrous effects second-wave Feminism has caused to marriage and family, one can conclude that ultimately, the underlying principle is a direct violation of the order God gave to mankind and a rejection of His sovereign authority and plan for the family and the society.

There seems to be a powerful women’s movement in Belize, modest in number, which has adopted some or all of the objectives of the principles that define us as a nation are being subverted in exchange for the ideals of a godless agenda that is spreading like wildfire throughout the world.

Perhaps, Neo Feminism has been given the wheel as crusaders of the ideals of the ‘New World Order’ because of the irwoman you gave me; she gave me some fruit from the tree, and I ate it (Genesis 3: 1-12)."

Beware! Strongholds, like the Garden of Eden, can be shattered in an instant by the manipulations of the woman. And as Adam undoubtedly surmised, men can unsuspectingly relinquish their will while basking in their prominence and authority.

All arrogance that seeks to put self above God’s Word always results in grave consequences. Belizeans cannot afford to accommodate Neo Feminists’ ideals and surrender our godly heritage which is confirmed by our Belizean Constitution.

There are Belizean gentlemen who would still hold the door open for females to walk through, but in times like these we must reserve our propriety and be alerted by the agenda our Belizean women are toting.

Our nation has been blessed by God with wealth untold but offenses and the delay of justice have wreaked turmoil in our nation. We do not welcome the aggravation of our evils; we covet the support and safeguarding of our Christian values.

The women who join in this cause are the ones our generations will know as our heroines.

“Beware! Strongholds, like the Garden of Eden, can be shattered in an instant by the manipulations of the woman. Neo Feminists. Belizeans would unanimously agree that our women and females need to be empowered in order to overcome situations that adversely affect them; however, most women in Belize would never support homosexual rights and the female sex work industry as their means of empowerment. These behaviors are choices which endanger the health and personal safety of females and to a larger extent their families.

Our Christian faith, which teaches us to love our neighbors as we love ourselves, would never allow us to be silent witnesses to the endangerment of our sisters and children (Mark 12:33).

Faith seems to be under assault in Belize since the very Christian resistible appeal of women, especially when they claim to have the welfare of the weak and the marginalized as their priorities.

The Genesis account details the entrapment of the entire world to sin, beginning with the deception of a woman, Eve, who was approached by Satan to first doubt God’s Order and then to disobey. She in turn beguiled her husband, Adam, who later responded to God’s interrogation by saying, “the

The Case of the Crawl Caye Project

A Lesson in Transparency, Thoughtfulness and Thoroughness

Prime Minister Dean Barrow

Jules Vasquez of Channel 7 News

An on-going news-story in the local Belizean media has to do with the possibility, feasibility or desirability of a Tourism-related project in Southern Belize which Norwegian Cruise Lines has expressed interest in pursuing. For context, let's go back to a portion of Prime Minister Dean Barrow's most recent Quarterly Press Conference on April 29, 2013:

"Norwegian Cruise-Lines has written to the Government of Belize and has been in discussion. We've appointed a Cabinet Sub-Committee to carry this along. They want to do a cruise facility in the South. We're looking very carefully at the area to ensure that there are no difficulties from an environmental or conservation, protection point of view."

Following up on the Prime Minister's comments, Jules Vasquez of Channel Seven News asked: "Sir, are you able to say, you spoke earlier in a superficial way about Crawl Caye, the option of Crawl Caye. Are you taking into consideration the fact that it annexes a World Heritage Site and, secondly, that the National Tourism Master Plan also says that only pocket-cruising should be reserved for the South of Belize?"

The Prime Minister responded, "Well, I said that this is pending environmental approval. Maybe that was a little bit of a misrepresentation. Indeed, the sub-committee that's supposed to be working with NCL, when last I heard, was awaiting a report from the Conservation People, the Ministry of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment as to whether any activity of the sort being contemplated could legally, properly take place at Crawl Caye, and if the answer to that is yes, what are the limits to such activity. So, while there is absolutely no doubt that Norwegian is dead serious, it may well be that, in view of the considerations you have raised, the answer comes back from our professional people that, look, this is simply not on."

Two months later, Thursday, June 30, 2013, Hon. Godwin Hulse, head of the Cabinet Sub-Cabinet Committee made himself available to the media for a further update:

Crawl Caye, the proposed site of the project being considered

"Here's the position", he stated. "NCL has made a proposal. There's a committee of the Cabinet which I chair, made up of other ministers, Heredia (Tourism), Castillo (Economic Development), Alamilla (Environment), and of course, Minister Contreras (Trade), and myself, basically as Minister of Labour. Those are the areas which Government has concerns with any investment. Initially, we met with NCL and out of that meeting came a requirement that the NCL technical people meet with our technical people to determine the technical parameters of doing a facility on the proposed island. That meeting took place. Our technical people advised NCL's technical people of what may or may not be acceptable. They went back to their drawing board and have now come back with a revised proposal which apparently should fit within those parameters. The technical people are now sitting with that as we speak to see whether in fact that matches the proposals, the recommendations they have made. We will meet next week on Monday to discuss those at which time we will know whether in fact those requirements are met or not by the proposal that NCL has. Thereafter, we would have to then go to another level which is, if we're going to move ahead, we would need an EIA, which then involves public consultation. After that stage, then we would be looking at whatever Memorandum of Understanding we could do, we're not at that stage yet.

Remember, I had laid out clearly that these are, the Five parameters for investment in this Country that Cabinet has set. The first being that it should be socially and economically acceptable, and legally doable. Two, it should bring some revenue to the Government of Belize. Three, it should bring some meaningful employment. I don't mean the minimum wage employment, I island that is being proposed. Has that issue been addressed so far with the Government and the NCL representatives?"

Hon. Godwin Hulse responded, "Well I hope the environmentalists don't think we are silly. Clearly, I have laid out the five parameters, and the last one which I left specifically for last, for emphasis, is that it enhances the Environment or at least sustains the Environment. So we're very cognizant of that, and we're not reckless. So, we're not about to engage in anything that will damage our Environment, that will destroy our relationships we have with international agencies, and destroy the very essence of what Tourism in Belize is. So, I hope they don't think we're stupid."

As Channel Seven further reported, Hon. Hulse also informed that when the proposal reaches the Environmental Assessment stage, members of the public will be able to voice its their concerns, and if there is a clear consensus against it, then Government will respect that.

The point by point inquiry by the local press on this issue, and the response by the relevant public officials, underscores the fact that this is a government that is characteristically transparent, thoughtful and thorough in the way it enters into agreements and undertakings that have far-reaching implications for the Nation and its People; quite unlike the Musa Administration of 1998-2008, which signed a number of secret agreements, a couple of which involved granting two exclusive licenses for two conflicting projects. The difference is like night and day, isn't it?

(As we go to press on Monday, June 3, Hon. Godwin Hulse and the Cabinet Sub-Committee he heads have just concluded discussions with major stakeholders in the Tourism Industry. They are taking to Cabinet on Tuesday, June 4 their recommendations based on those discussions.)

mean at the higher level. Four, it should bring some foreign exchange. Five, it should preserve the Environment and possibly enhance it. If those criteria and parameters are met, then we are good to go."

The local reporter further queried, "Sir, but the environmentalists are concerned that the proposal is even being entertained, because they are saying that it has the ability for us to be de-listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site because of the particular

Short Term and Long Term Solution

PM Barrow Fixes Infant-Mortality Problem at KHMH

In the news for the past two weeks or so has been the issue of the death of 12 premature babies within one month at the Karl Heusner Memorial Hospital, all established to have been caused by a bacteria that had somehow found its way into the hospital.

It's one of those stories that still has many wondering how the situation could have reached such crisis levels without the Management and Board of the Hospital being fully apprised of the situation and taking measures to address it as promptly as possible.

It's a story that will no doubt continue to be discussed, with the media and the public understandably continuing to ask the hard, basic questions.

For now, what's particularly essential is that measures are taken to ensure that such deaths do not continue to occur. It is with this objective in mind that Prime Minister Barrow on Thursday, May 30 made the following announcement at a Press Conference called by the Ministry of Health and the KHMH Management:

"Both immediate and longer term remedial action is necessary. Among other things, this involves financing. And this is where government must and will do its part. I have already told the board that the expenses of rehabilitating and modestly expanding the current premises of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit will be borne by the Government of Belize.

We will also pay for any equipment that needs immediate replacement and we will help to defray the costs of any outsourcing of medical treatment that might be necessary while the re-make of the facility is in progress.

Most important, of course, is the construction of the completely new wing of the K.H.M.H; which will house the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit and Neonatal Intensive Care Unit.

This project, spearheaded by my wife, Kim, and the Hospital and the Ministry of Health is well advanced in so far as the architectural plans and scope of works have already been drawn up.

In fact, both the project manager and the building contractor have also been appointed so that all was in readiness for construction to start, except for one thing. Construction was to have been funded by the donations realized through Kim's fundraising efforts. Commitments, in that regard, have been made by, among others, the Goby Challenge Foundation, and discussions are ongoing with the OAK and a number of European outfits. But the actual money has been a little slow in coming as a result of the very necessary procedures that must be gone through with the funding agencies.

What government will now do is to find the first half a million dollars so that construction can begin immediately."

Prime Minister Barrow Barrow said Government has already disbursed $500 Thousand to start construction of the new ward, and a total of $3 Million will be sourced from international contributors.

After FOUR weeks of Village Council Elections Countrywide, with only two weeks to go, the United Democratic Party has a commanding lead, scoring significant victories even in villages and constituencies which it lost by significant margins in the last Elections. This is an encouraging sign for the party which almost lost the 2012 General Elections because of low voter support in the rural areas. The chart on the left shows results of the most recent round of village council elections this past week-end; the one below, the overall tally.

Miami Blows out Indiana in Game 7

Will Face San Antonio Spurs in NBA Finals

By Tim Reynolds
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI -- Their season, their legacy, their reign atop the NBA was all at stake, and the Miami Heat responded to all of that in a manner befitting champions. With a blowout.

It's onto the NBA Finals for the Heat after they put away the Indiana Pacers, who saw their hopes of a storybook upset simply fall apart in a hurry.

LeBron James scored 32 points and grabbed eight rebounds, ailing Dwyane Wade matched his post-season high with 21 points, and the Heat ran away from the Pacers 99-76 in Game 7 of the Eastern Conference finals on Monday night.

The Heat advanced to play the San Antonio Spurs in a series that starts Thursday night in Miami.

Miami led by as many as 28 points, a shocking amount for a series that had an aggregate score of Heat 569, Pacers 564 entering Monday night. The Heat actually trailed by six in the early going, were still down 21-19 after the first quarter and it was starting to look like it was going to be one of those down-to-the-wire nights.

Not even close. James exited with 5:08 left, shaking retired soccer star David Beckham's hand as he made his way to the Heat bench for a relatively subdued celebration. Not long afterward, security personnel started what's become a familiar task in Miami -- surrounding the court and stretching out a yellow rope, preparing to hold people at bay for the looming on-court trophy presentation.

More than a few people didn't stick around to see the East title formally presented. After all, it's an all-or-nothing season for the Heat -- and this trophy isn't the one that will satisfy them.

Ray Allen added 10 points for Miami, which earned its 78th victory of the season, matching the 11th-best, single-season total in NBA history.

Roy Hibbert scored 18 points for the Pacers, who got 14 from David West, 13 from George Hill and 10 from Lance

Miami Heat's LeBron James drives past Indiana Pacers Paul George in Second Half of Game 7 in NBA Eastern Conference Finals

Stephenson. All-Star Paul George was held to seven points on 2-for-9 shooting and fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

George was the last Indiana player on the floor as Miami prepped for its post-game celebration, shaking any hand he could find before being walked toward the visiting locker room by Pacers coach Frank Vogel, who slung an arm over his star's shoulder.

His time will likely come -- someday.

Not yet, though. Not with this Miami team built for titles. It's the fourth trip to the finals for the Heat, who won the title in 2006 and have now been there all three years of the "Big Three" era, falling to Dallas in 2011 and then topping Oklahoma City in five games last year.

Miami went 2-0 against San Antonio this season, though neither of those games should be considered harbingers of what's ahead. The Spurs rested four regulars in the first meeting, the Heat were without three injured starters in the second match-up.

James delivered an inspirational address of sorts to his team Monday morning, publicly revealing no details of what he said afterward other than insisting that the Heat would be ready.

He was right. After 5 minutes, it was 12-6 Indiana. After that, the rest of the half was pretty much all Miami.

Once the Pacers cooled off a bit, the Heat immediately went into pull-away mode. Over the final 19 minutes of the half, Miami's edge was 46-25. Over the final 11 minutes, it was 33-14, as James and Allen outscored the Pacers by themselves.

Allen did less pre-game shooting than usual on Monday. He was at the arena several hours before game time, as is his custom, and got in a pre-game workout, but once he found a groove, he decided that was enough. And after going 13 for 46 in the first six games of the series, the NBA's career leader in 3-pointers had to believe that he was simply overdue to get going.

His first shot on Monday was a 3-pointer that connected, giving the Heat a 26-23 lead.

The Heat never trailed again.

By halftime, it was 52-37, with James scoring 18 points,

Chris Bosh and Wade combining for 17 and Allen adding 10 more. And what had to be most troubling to the Pacers at halftime was their 15 turnovers, a number Vogel said earlier Monday would spell trouble if his team committed that many in the entire game.

And in the third, the run the Pacers so desperately needed never arrived. Indiana was still within 13 with 3:37 left in the period when Hibbert picked up his fourth foul. Ordinarily, that would mean someone goes to the bench, though Game 7 on the road for a trip to the finals hardly could be classified as an ordinary occasion.

So Vogel -- who was second-guessed for not having Hibbert on the floor for the final moments in overtime of Game 1, when James got to the rim easily for a game-winning layup -- left his centre out there with four fouls.

Barely a minute later, it backfired. Hibbert picked up his fifth late in the third, and George got to five fouls by getting whistled twice in the final 46.1 seconds of the quarter.

By then, the outcome was obvious.

It was Miami's night, and another trip to the finals awaited.

Police United Win PLB Football Championship

It was the third time consecutively that they had gone to the Finals of the Premier League of Belize (PLB) National Football Competition. The previous two years they fell short of winning the championship, earning them the derisive nickname in sports circles of 'bridesmaid'. This time, the Police United Football Club finally did it; they earned the ultimate distinction of being the 2013 PLB Football Champions.

Police United in Opening Ceremonies for the Game on Saturday Night

Amid the relentless showers and muddy pitch, FC Belize somehow managed enough vision and precision to get the ball between the two uprights on the opposite end of the field and put themselves on the scoreboard, One to Nil over Police United, thereby evening out the one goal advantage with which the home team had entered the match.

The FC Belize's goal came from a play initiated by Avian Crawford, who found midfielder Martin Leslie with a brilliant pass. Leslie in turn passed the ball to Michael Hernandez who headed the ball into the goal for the One-Nil lead over Police.

Police United stepped up their attack on the other end, but could not readily come up with the equalizer. Meanwhile, FC Belize kept threatening to score again, coming inches of Sergeant Gamboa, and when the game resumed, the Police went back on the attack, but FC Belize again made some close calls at doubling its lead with a second goal.

For the Police, Devon Makin got one of the best looks at goal, picking up a loose ball within the eighteenth box; but he kicked it straight at the FC Belize goalkeeper. Very shortly thereafter, he penetrated the FC Belize defence, but mishandled the ball, and again FC Belize foiled the attempt at the equalizer.

Finally, after building up the pressure for a while, Police United broke through as Daniel Jimenez received a pass from Lennox Castillo and slammed the ball home into the corner of the goal to level the score for the match at one goal apiece, thereby restoring the overall advan-2103 PLB Champions; FC Belize settling for second place.

The Post-Season Awards were issued immediately following the game, with FFB President Ruperto Vicente on hand to do the honors. In addition to Championship trophies, there were other awards of distinction. Glenford Chimilio of FC Belize earned the regular season top honor of Best Goalkeeper. Denmark Casey of Belmopan Bandits, last season's champions, won Best Midfielder. Danny

Andres Makin of Police United

The decisive match was played last Saturday, May 25 inside the FFB Stadium in the Capital City of Belmopan, starting around 8 PM. The Police United Team went into that second and final match of the Finals holding a narrow lead of 1 goal to zero, earned in the first game of the two-game home and away series.

It was a rainy night, not in Georgia, but in Belmopan, where it mattered most. But the rains were not enough to dampen the spirits of the Police United Fans; arguably, neither that of the FC Belize enthusiasts who truly believed their team could redeem itself on the road and win it all.

Orlando Jimenez challenges Stephen Baizar

Danny Jimenez Equalizes 1-1

Jimenez of the new champion team, Police United, is the Most Valuable Player (MVP) for the Playoffs. International golem, Deon McCauley, now a member of the Belmopan Bandits, shared the Most Goals award for the season with Jerome James; they both scored 9 goals. And, Leon Cadle of FC Belize earned the distinction of Best Defence.

At the end of a rainy night of Football at the FFB Stadium in Belmopan, the biggest news had to be that Police United had finally shed the nickname of 'bridesmaid', and had stepped up to the altar to consummate the nuptial bond as the lovely bride of the PBL.

Finally, they did it!

And that's how the match would finish. Police United, with their one goal advantage had emerged as the
