A BELIZEAN MAN AND HIS DOG - KILLED BY POLICE

young children reportedly rushed out of the house and ran to a neighborhood donut shop, a few blocks down the street, where she enlisted assistance from sheriff deputies in the area.

Spokesman Sgt. Joe Borja of the Riverside County Sheriff's Department informed that "the woman called authorities just before 11:30 p.m. and reported that her husband assaulted her. She was taken to a hospital with a broken nose," Borja said.

Sheriff Deputies reportedly went to the couple's home and called for Codd to come outside. At first, he refused, but when he did emerge from the front door he confronted the deputies "in a hostile and aggressive manner," the release said.

Sgt. Joe Borja said Codd was holding a long lighter -- the kind used to light a fire -- as if it were a gun.

Erin McGee, 19, who lives across the street, said she heard a commotion after midnight and went to the window. She saw her neighbor with his pit bull arguing with four deputies. "A bunch of rounds went off," McGee said. "I just dove in the hallway."

When she looked outside again, her neighbor and his dog had both been shot. "It was horrible," she said, adding that her neighbor's body was lying in front of his house well into the morning.

"The family had just moved in around Easter and that Codd seemed like a nice person. Codd had mentioned that he wanted his wife, who is a hairstylist in Orange County, to stay home more with their children," McGee said.

Investigators were still at the scene on Wednesday afternoon. Yellow crime-scene tape blocked access to the couple's large two-story home. Multiple bullet holes in the stucco near the front door were visible from the street.

The couple's three children, a 2-year-old son and two daughters ages 3 and 5, were reportedly asleep upstairs when their father was shot.

Sheriff's officials did not release the names of the deputies involved but said they have been placed on paid administrative leave, which is routine in such circumstances.

Codd worked at an oil refinery in the Los Angeles area. According to court documents, He was convicted in connection with an August 2007 incident, during which he threw a cell phone at Johnston while she held their infant daughter, then grabbed Johnston by the hair. He used a knife to cut off some of her hair and in the process injured her shoulder. A month later, Johnston accused him of threatening her with a steak knife while she lay in bed with the baby, court documents show.

Codd was sentenced to 180 days in jail and three years of probation and was required to enroll in domestic violence prevention classes, court records show.

Sheriff's officials declined to release the woman's name, but court records show Codd has a 2008 domestic violence-related conviction for an assault involving his girlfriend, Reyna Johnston, now 35, and their young daughter.

Ashword Clifford Codd is predeceased by his Father, Sydney Codd Sr. He was survived by his mother Glenda Codd; seven sisters, Mrs. Delita Hammer, Mrs. Marilyn Creigh, Mrs. Orva Espat, Mrs. Bernadette Leslie, Mrs. Eleanor Mattis, Mrs. Clodia Swasey and Sharon Codd.

He is also survived by three brothers: Sydney Jr., Earl and Owen Codd.

Mayor Facing Serious Criminal Charges

an explosive corruption scandal. Did the mayor secretly work on behalf of two of Mexico's most bloodthirsty drug-trafficking organizations?

Sanchez, who cultivated the image of a populist, anti- corruption mayor, was arrested late Tuesday night at Cancun's airport on suspicion of involvement in organized crime, money laundering and making transactions using illegal proceeds.

He is the most visible elected figure arrested on drug-related charges since President Felipe Calderon launched the war against traffickers 3 1/2 years ago.

Federal authorities on Wednesday said Sanchez provided information and protection to two feared groups — the Zetas and the Beltran Leyva gang — to help them ply their trade in the region.

Officials found that Sanchez, a successful former resort builder in his early 40s, was moving funds through his accounts in sums far bigger than his reported income of $1.5 million, said Ricardo Najera, spokesman for the federal attorney general's office.

An amateur singer, the clenched-haired Sanchez won support from many Cancun residents for firing corrupt police officers, and he likes to boast of his public works projects, including turning trash-strewn lots in scruffy neighborhoods into parks.

Sanchez, who was endorsed by a coalition of leftist parties, is the first person in recent memory to be arrested in the midst of a gubernatorial campaign in Mexico. Early polls showed him trailing in Quintana Roo, one of 14 states that will hold elections July 4.

Supporters from Sanchez's opposition Democratic Revolution Party, or PRD, charged that the arrest was an election-season stunt by the conservative government of Calderon to deny Sanchez Quintana Roo's top office.

On Tuesday, hours before his arrest, Sanchez charged that he was being threatened and targeted by political foes as part of a "dirty war."

Sanchez, who was elected mayor in 2007 and goes by "Greg," used Twitter to announce that he had been detained at Cancun International Airport late Tuesday night, saying he was being held "illegally." Numerous tweets sent from his Twitter account on Wednesday took aim at the accusations.

"Why now? Because we're winning," one said. It was not immediately clear who was sending the messages under his name.

Sanchez's supporters disparaged the arrest as a "Michoacanazo," referring to the Calderon government's arrests during last year's election season of more than two dozen public officials — mostly from the PRD — in the western state of Michoacan for alleged ties to organized crime. Nine of the 10 mayors arrested were later freed for lack of evidence.

"This is a political prosecution. There is no other word for it," Sanchez's wife, Niurka Saliva, told reporters.

Najera, who said some of the evidence against Sanchez came from confidential witnesses, denied political considerations.

Jesus Ortega, the PRD's president, said Sanchez's campaign would go on.

Belize Featured in Caribbean Travel & Life

Belize was prominently featured in a 10-page spread in the May 2010 issue of Caribbean Travel & Life magazine. The readers of Caribbean Travel & Life are among the most frequent visitors to the Caribbean, traveling to the region on average 1.3 times per year.

Caribbean Travel & Life attracts an upscale audience interested in vacationing in the Caribbean. Contents include shopping, dining and lodging ideas, cover the arts and entertainment in the area, and offer suggestions on sights and locations to visit. Caribbean Travel & Life Magazine is a consumer magazine that covers dozens of diverse countries, colonies and cultures and thousands of resorts, restaurants, beaches and attractions. Its main focus is the Caribbean and the magazine has a circulation of over 150,000.

The article entitled "Belize by Jimmy – Jungle to Beach & Back Again in a Very Tiny SUV," was written by Travel Writer, Matthew Phenix who visited Belize in January. "He first spoke of his trip to Orange Walk where he visited the Mennonite community in Indian Creek Village, and sited Lamanai and one of the grandest Maya archaeological sites. He went on to comment on his trip to the beach burg of Placencia and the luxury resorts he visited while there.

Phenix then spoke of his trip to Punta Gorda, a waterfront city of 5,000 that sits just 15 miles from the Guatemalan border. He made mention of his visit to San Pedro, Columbia, in the hilly southwest corner of Belize, as "the country's largest enclave of an indigenous Maya tribe known as the Kekchi and the ancient Maya city of Lubaantun as the spot where the Skull of Doom was found. He also referred to Punta Gorda as a "home base for anglers angling for the bonefish-tarpon-permit grand slam and the divers who've discovered the epic beauty of the Belize Barrier Reef's southern extremity, 35 miles offshore."

"We have seen an increase in adventure travel to Belize. This acknowledgement by a specialized publication brings greater awareness to Belize and its capacity to attract adventure travelers," comments Tourism Director, Seleni Matus. "We continue to work with the tourism private sector, the media and key international partners to place Belize top of mind with this important target market," Matus noted.

STAR HUMOR

The Notorious Uncle James

My uncle James knew the exact day, month and year that he was going to die. In fact, he knew the exact time that he was going to die and he was right on target,” said Tom

Sam & Clarence

Sam lived across the river from Clarence in Valley of Peace.

They were not fond of each other and were always yelling across the river at each other.

Sam would yell to Clarence, "If I had a way to cross this river, I'd come over there and beat the living hell out of you."

This went on for many years. Finally the Ministry of Works built a bridge across the river right there by their houses.

When the bridge was completed, Sam's wife, Lena, says, "Now is your chance, Sam, why don't you go over there and beat the hell out of Clarence like you said you would?"

Sam says, "OK, I think I will do just that" and he started for the bridge but he sees a sign on the top cross bar of the bridge. He stops to read it, then he turns around and rushes back home.

Lena asked, "Why did you come back?"

Sam said, "Lena, I think I change my mind about beating up Clarence. They put a sign on the bridge that says "Clearance is 13 ft. 6 in." You know, he don't look near that big when I yell at him from this side of the river" moods. That's all I am asking for Lord because, Lord, if I pray for Strength, I'll beat him to death.

AMEN"

The Sour Grape Hairdresser

Alice was at her hairdresser's getting her hair styled for a trip to Rome with her husband.

She mentioned the trip to the hairdresser, who responded:

"Rome? Why would anyone want to go there? It's crowded and dirty. You're crazy to go to Rome. So, how are you getting there?"

"We're taking Continental," was the reply. "We got a great rate!"

"Continental?" exclaimed the hairdresser. "That's a terrible airline. Their planes are old, their flight attendants are ugly, and they're always late. So, where are you staying in Rome?"

"We'll be at this exclusive little place over on Rome's Tiber River called Teste."

"Don't go any further. I know that place. Everybody thinks it's gonna be something special and exclusive, but it's really a dump."

"We're going to go to see the Vatican and maybe get to see the Pope."

"That sucks," laughed the hairdresser. "You and a million other people trying to see him. He'll look the size of an ant. Boy, good luck on this lousy trip of yours. You're going to need it."

A month later, Alice again came in for a hairdo. The hairdresser asked her about her trip to Rome.

"It was wonderful," explained Alice, "not only were we on time in one of Continental's brand new planes, but it was overbooked, and they bumped us up to first class. The food and wine were wonderful, and I had a handsome 28-year-old steward who waited on me hand and foot. And the hotel was great! They'd just finished a $5 million remodeling job, and now it's a jewel, the finest hotel in the city. They, too, were overbooked, so they apologized and gave us their owner's suite at no extra charge!"

"Well," muttered the hairdresser, "that's all well and good, but I know you didn't get to see the Pope."

"Actually, we were quite lucky, because as we toured the Vatican, a Swiss Guard tapped me on the shoulder, and explained that the Pope likes to meet some of the visitors, and if I'd be so kind as to step into his private room and wait, the Pope would personally greet me. Sure enough, five minutes later, the Pope walked through the door and shook my hand! I knelt down, he bent over and whispered a few words in my ear."

"Oh, really! What'd he say?" asked the hairdresser.

He said: "Who f---ed up your hair?"

BTB and Dive Training Magazine Host Educational Seminar

The Belize Tourism Board, in collaboration with Dive Training Magazine, hosted two educational dive seminars this past week. The first was held on Tuesday, May 18th at the Sunbreeze Hotel in San Pedro and the other on Thursday, May 20th at the Inn at Roberts Grove in Placencia.

The objective of the seminar was to educate professional divers on the interpretation of the coral reef experience, the fall of the cities beneath the reef; dive safety myths and misconceptions, and new sites and fresh perspectives of the dive industry. Approximately 30 persons attended the seminar.

Marine Science Instructor and Senior Editor of Dive Training Magazine, Dr. Alex Brylske conducted the training. Dr. Brylske has had a long and varied career as a marine educator. Currently, he is a Professor of Marine Science and Technology at Florida Keys Community College in Key West and directs the College's scientific diving research program. Former Director of Tourism Elected President Of The Belize Red Cross Central Committee

BELIZE CITY, Monday, May 17, 2010:

The Belize Red Cross held its 20th General Assembly on Saturday May 15 at the Chateau Caribbean Hotel in Belize City. The event also included the election of new members to serve on the Central Committee. Mrs. Tracy Taegar Panton, former Director of Tourism, was elected President of the Committee.

"After working for over 20 years in the tourism and business sector I am eager to give back," expressed Mrs. Tracy Panton moments after being elected. Having recently concluded 12 years as the Director of the Belize Tourism Board, she is now looking forward to, in her own words, "bringing my experience to the Belize Red Cross to support the staff and volunteers in their work."

Mrs. Tracy Taegar Panton

Other members of the new Central Committee include: Betty Tam as First Vice President; Dr. Gary Longworth, Second Vice President; Denise Mahler, Treasurer and five Executive Members: Michel Chebat, Carol Hyde, Martin Marshalleck, Myrtle Palacio and Dr. Alba Mendez Sosa.

Guest speaker for the event was Havard Hovdhaugen, from the Red Cross of Norway who is currently heading the Disaster Preparedness project in Belize.

In his presentation Mr Hovdhaugen, pointed out the unique bilateral cooperation between the Norwegian Red Cross and the Belize Red Cross over the past several years. He informed that the Norwegian Red Cross has funded numerous projects and has allowed the Belize Red Cross to expand its activities and its impact to Belize's most vulnerable individuals and communities.

Director General Mrs. Lily Bowman presented the Belize Red Cross Biennial Report 2008-2010, which she dedicated "to all our volunteers who are the backbone of the Belize Red Cross."

She highlighted the organization's greatest achievements during the past two years including four projects and the ongoing programmes of the Belize Red Cross. The Community-based Disaster Risk Reduction programme with emphasis in Public Health and Water and Sanitation in emergencies was funded by the European Commission Humanitarian Aid Department (ECHO) between 2007-2009 in 16 communities in the Stann Creek and Toledo Districts. The success of this project enabled a second phase in 12 communities in the Cayo District and Belize River Valley with emphasis in School Safety and Community Disaster Preparedness.

The Norwegian Red Cross and the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs have also provided funding and technical assistance to both these projects.

A third project was conducted in collaboration with the United Nations Development Programme's Global Environmental Fund Small Grants Programme providing three communities in Corozal District - Sarteneja, Chunox and Copper Bank - with funding to develop and implement mitigations projects to minimize their vulnerability to climate change.

The final project was ProVention carried out in five schools in the Belize and Corozal Districts, each of which developed a School Safety Plan and taught both children and their families to identify and mitigate risks in their living environments.

Of particular pride to the Belize Red Cross was the overwhelming response to the Haiti Relief Appeal opened January 13th, 2010 and closed on April 30th, which raised over BZ$615,000.

Director General Lily Bowman thanked Red Cross volunteers for their efforts in the Haiti Relief fundraising events and reminded those present that, "just like Belizeans generously went into their pockets to help our brothers and sisters in Haiti, we ask that they continue to give to their local Red Cross as our work depends on this support and as the hurricane season approaches our response to eventual disasters will also require funding."

Closing remarks were delivered by Bernabe Matus, the newly elected Belize Red Cross Youth Commission President. He motivated participants with an inspirational quote from an unknown author, "care enough to give the world the best you have and you will be giving the world a tiny miracle-small....yet hugely significant."

On behalf of the new Central Committee, its Staff and Volunteers, the Director General thanked members of the past Committee for their dedicated service over the last 4 years to the National Society and the people they serve. She said, "giving so selflessly of yourself has moved the National Society to reach out to so many vulnerable people everywhere in the country and this has not gone unnoticed as you have indeed made a difference in so many lives".

Mercury on the menu?

What PUBLIC HEALTH and the DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT aren't telling you about the fish you eat...

While Tilapia remains largely safe to eat, recent testing in the Macal has detected unsafe levels of mercury in other fish.

Public Health has gotten the test results on fish from the Macal River, done in May, October and December of 2009.

These tests show that the amount of mercury in the fish tissue is high, especially in the Bay Snook. People should not eat these fish or eat them in very small amounts. Children and pregnant women or women who are nursing best leave that fish alone.

Fish

You may want to avoid:

- Bay Snook
- Tarpon
- Tuba
- Blue catfish
- Billium (sardines)
- fish that eat sardines

If you weigh 150 pounds, you should NOT eat more than:

Bay Snook	4 ounces per month
Tarpon	8 ounces per month
Blue Catfish	8 ounces per month

Ingestion of mercury and certain other heavy metals have been identified as a cause of damage to the nervous system, cancer and kidney disease. Children and pregnant women are more at risk if they eat fish having high levels of mercury.
